

Spring 2025 Capstone:

Strategic Planning for Enhanced Emergency Food Relief in Knox County, Indiana (Farmer)

This capstone will tackle the issue of emergency food services for Knox County, Indiana residents. Students in the course will collaborate with Knox County agencies to investigate gaps in the emergency food relief system of the region. This project was initiated by community members in tandem with Sustaining Hoosier Communities and is part of a broader set of projects. We will research food access in both time and space as we attempt to provide county officials with necessary insights and recommendations for improving emergency food services to the region's most vulnerable residents.
